School uniform and belongings

Everyday this week staff have had to try to repatriate a significant number of jumpers, coats, lunch boxes and water bottles. I also hear many of you being exasperated that you have been in to look for your child's lost belongings...again. This takes staff a significant amount of time, as you can imagine and can only happen if a pupil's name is clearly in the item. The only labelling that really works is permanent pen- eg a sharpie or a label sewn in/ ironed on. Even with these, regular checking is needed.

This action makes it much easier for school staff and other pupils to return missing items when they are found. As a school we are regularly impressing on the pupils the need to take responsibility for their belongings.

We appreciate how exasperating it is when your child comes home saying they can't find their jumper.... most of the staff are parents too.

Any items of clothing that we have been unable to match to a child will be kept in the classrooms for a week and then moved to the office- other items eg left in hall or outside will go to the office.

Just to let you know there are various school name labels available on Amazon for reasonable prices.

Mobile Phones

NO mobile phones or devices that have access to the internet should be brought into school. If your child needs to bring a phone to school for their walk home, please make sure they are dropped into the office in order for us to keep them safe.

We had excitement on Friday morning when we were able to go and see yr 2's fire of London burn in the playground!! We had the fire engine and fire men there to make sure it was safe.

Have a lovely weekend,
From reception class

Porthpean Class

Another successful week in Year 1. We have been using our text map to help us give instructions on how to make bread. Next week the children will begin to write these instructions. In maths we will be learning about ordinal numbers and how to use the number line.

The children have been working really hard on their letter formation. Please continue to practice this at home with your child ready for Friday's handwriting check.

Pendower Class

This week we have been lucky enough to have the fire brigade come to visit us. We created our own mini London in 1666 and watched how quickly the fire could spread. It was very exciting. We have also written our own warning tales

Next week we are starting to look at addition and subtraction in maths and recapping with our Read, Write, Inc sounds to help us with our spelling.

Check out our twitter feed for some photos of our exciting week

Charlestown Class

We have had a very busy week, the children have had an amazing end to the week. They may come home and tell you about some of our changes, we now have an extra step up from blue on our behaviour chart. We are calling it 'off the chart' this means your child was already on blue but have continued to put in extra effort in their work or behaviour and have moved up again. Every child who is 'off the chart' awesome gets TWO Well Done tickets and they get to choose a treat from Mrs Carter's sweet box. If your child has any dietary needs please come and speak to me and we will make sure something suitable is in the box for them to pick (the selection is miniature individual chocolates at the moment). We have also had a move around of the tables and now have three 'Tables of Trust', these tables are for children who are always showing expected behaviour and are trusted to work well together and are trusted to use their own glue. These seats are changeable depending on behaviour so your child may come home and tell you they have made it onto a table of trust for the day, it may be for a couple of days or it may be indefinitely, either way it's something to be proud of them for, they've worked hard and have earned our praise. If your child comes off a table of trust please help us by reminding them they can earn their way back to a table of Trust by showing good listening, good manners and trying their hardest.

Whipsiderry Class

This week in year 4 we have started looking at diary extracts. We have been exploring negative numbers and developing our knowledge of addition of 4 digit numbers as well as keeping on our quest to master our times tables

We have also been learning about Judaism and Victorian toys and game

Porthcurnow Class

Porthcurno started the week by visiting Poltair to practise rugby ball skills with a Rugby England coach. They embraced the challenge and despite wind and rain, worked incredibly hard as a team to learn new skills. In English, they have been writing their own suspense stories using the ghosts of Hogwarts as their inspiration. They have learnt new skills including choosing appropriate vocabulary and altering the length of their sentences to build tension. In maths they have revisited addition and subtraction strategies including solving some tricky word problems. Ask your child to show you the 'subtract 1' method

Pentewan Class

This week, Year 6 have been tackling written methods for long multiplication and division in maths. In English, they have completed their biographies of people they have identified as having built a great legacy. They have also been exploring variation and adaptation of foxes in science. We also had a superb National Poetry Day on Thursday! Next week, Year 6 will be beginning their unit on balanced arguments and exploring factors and multiples in maths.
